

Financial Assistance Policy

Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center will contact your health insurance provider that may cover some or all your services, to determine your financial responsibility. You may contact them directly as well for additional information. If Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center determines that you have any financial responsibility for the services incurred, you will be required to pay in full on or before the date the services are provided. Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center's financial assistance policies are that if you are unable to pay your share in full on or before the date the services are provided, because you believe you are medically indigent or you are not covered by a health insurance provider, then upon request Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center in its sole discretion, may offer you a discount on the amount due and/or offer a payment plan. Any such discount is considered by Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center to be charity care. There is no formal application process for obtaining "charity care" at Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center. Waterside Ambulatory Surgical Center's standard collection policy is to produce and send one or more statements to patients for their cost sharing amount.
